GOVERNOR GARDNER DELIVERS ADDRESS

TO GRADUATING CLASS OF STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE TODAY.

THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH

Commencement Exercises Attended by One of the Largest Audiences Assembled in Auditorium .

The commencement exercises of the State Teachers College being held this afternoon are attended by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in the auditorium of the State Teachers College to hear Governor F. D. Gardner give the address to the graduates of the College.

Many business concerns of the city suspended work during the hours of the Governor's address in order that employers and employees could have the opportunity of attending the exercises.

The exercises this year were very impressive. The class was ushered down the left aisle of the auditorium by Miss Alma Lucas of the Junior class, while the Board of Regents, the speakers of the day and the faculty came down the right, led by Miss Edith Holt, president of the Junior class. During this time the orchestra played Schlepelgrell's Overture, "The Golden Sceptre." The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Cox, followed by the piano solos, "Hark, Hark, the Lark" and "By the Sea." Schubert-Liszt, played by Miss Ruth Jones.

Next came a violin solo. "Meditations from Thais," Massenet, by C. D. Kutschinski, following which the Hon W. A. Blagg, president of the Board of Regents, presented to the audience, his Excellency, Governor Frederick D. Gardner.

At the close of the Governor's address, Dean George A. Colbert presented the classes to President Richardson, who awarded the forty hour certificate and the Elementary Life Diploma to the respecitve groups. President Richardson also conferred the degree, Bachelor of Science in Education upon twenty-one Seniors who have completed the full college course prescribed by the school.

The Governor said in part:

"My Fellow Citizens: It is, indeed, a great pleasure for me to have found it possible to avail myself of the invitation to be with you and address this splendid audience of people. Old customs and forms are now in the scrap-heap, and I shall, therefore, feel at liberty on this occasion to depart from the usual and customary commencement day address, and shall speak to you upon the subject of Current History—the current history of your state, your nation and the world."

The Governor then proceeded to speak of the Missouri history in the great world war.

Speaking of current history in its national and world-wide aspect, the Governor said:

"Never in the history of civilization have the peoples of this nation or the world been confronted with questions so momentous, profound and dangerous as those inherited from the world war. Social and mental disease and unrest, economic waste, inflation, political pandemonium and confusion — in fact, the world seems turned up-

Randolph county, 27,564, increase 1,382, or 5.3 per cent.

By the population of Nodaway county falling below 30,000 will mean a loss of $500 a year in the salary of the prosecuting attorney, commencing January 1, 1921. When the salary law pertaining to the office of prosecuting attorney was passed by the legislature a few years ago the estimated population of this county was given at 30,000. The salary at present is $2,500. After January 1, it will be $2,000.

HOLD UP INCOME TAX MONEY UNTIL FINAL DECISION

Collectors Advises not to Remit to State Until Supreme Court Has Decided the Case.

Acting on the advice of the attorney general, State Auditor Hackmann yesterday sent a letter to every collector of state revenue in the state, advising them to make no remittances to the state treasurer of income taxes until the supreme court finally had settled in statutes affecting the collection of this tax.

The auditor explains his suggestion by saying that if the supreme court finally holds that this tax should be paid for a part of 1919, under the law of 1917, and the remainder under the act of 1919, it is probable that the collectors will be able to make the refund to taxpayers direct. If the money is turned over to the state treasury, however, the only possible way to get a refund would be through relief bills passed by the next legislature. This would incur a long wait.

In the event the supreme court finally holds that the income tax for 1919 should be collected under the law of 1917 up to August 7 of that year and under the law of 1919 for the remainder of the same year, those who have paid the tax will be entitled to have 40 per cent of the amount they paid refunded to them.

Miss Lucile Holmes will go to St. Joseph tomorrow morning to spend about ten days visiting with Mr and Mrs. Dan Holmes and friends.

SECRETARY OF STATE SAYS SULLINGER FILED FOR SENATOR

But Judge Sullinger Says He Did not File and If Filing Was Made It Was Without His Knowledge.

Is Judge J. W. Sullinger a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state senator? The Democrat-Forum received a dispatch last Saturday from Jefferson City stating that Judge Sullinger had filed. In response to a telegram sent to Judge Sullinger yesterday by this paper, he wired:

"I did not file. If filing was made it was done without my knowledge or consent."

The Democrat-Forum wired the Secretary of State this morning for the candidates who filed for the Democratic nomination for state senator from this district. The reply from the Secretary of State follows:

"Marshall E. Ford of Maryville and Judge J. W. Sullinger of King City are the only candidates for the Democratic nomination for state senator from the first district."

GRADUATING CLASS GIVES GOOD PLAY AT COLLEGE

"A Single Man" Presented at the Auditorium Last Night Was Very Creditable.

A large crowd enjoyed the Senior Class play, "A Single Man," given last night at the College auditorium. The play was of an English setting, with scenes laid at the Worthington country house. There was a very interesting plot throughout the play with many unexpected things turning up. There was a pleasant vein of comedy throughout, with real good wit and humor interspersed. A. M. Darnell in the leading part of Robin Worthington, the single man, who was an author on the shady side of forty, was exceptionally good in his part. Laura Curfman as Miss Habeltine, his stenographer, who finally won the "Single Man," was well cast for her part and played it fine. Lois Hankins took the part of the youthful Maggie Cottrel, with unusual ease and natural ability. Carrie Coler as Louise Parker, "the Vamp," displayed a rather novel and unique method of "Vamping."

The play as a whole went off fine and showed a touch of finish considerably above the average local talent productions. Music was furnished by the College orchestra.

A NEW BRIDGE REQUESTED OVER NODAWAY AT JUNCTION

County Court Will Probably Grant Request—Several Agree to Carry the Warrants.

A delegation composed of W. W. Jones, Walter Cochran, Everett Cochran, Luke Fast, Miles Fast, Clarence Miller, T. A. Corken and a few others appeared before the county court yesterday requesting that a bridge be built across the Nodaway river west of Burlington Junction. This bridge was recently washed away. It will take about $10,000 to build this bridge and as the county bridge fund is already overdrawn, the court is without the money for such a bridge. The delegation of men agreed to cash the warrants to be issued for building this bridge and to carry them until the county had funds to take them up. The warrants would pay at the rate of 6 per cent interest.

The court will probably grant the request of the delegation for this new bridge.

The court will advertise for bridges to be built within the next few weeks. There are three to be built in Washington township, three in Independence, and two in Nodaway township.

INSUFFICIENT EVIDENCE WAS OPINION OF SUPREME COURT.

The opinion of the supreme court of Missouri, which reversed the case of the state against Mark M. Adkins on a charge of arson was received in Maryville today. The court holds there was insufficient evidence for the conviction of Adkins. Adkins was given a sentence of four years in the penitentiary by the jury here in court.

The opinion of the supreme court discharged Adkins.

Mrs. Fayette Bellows and daughters, Mary Jane and Barbara, will leave Thursday for Great Falls, Montana, where they will spend the summer with Mrs Bellows' sister, Mrs. H. Dinsmore. They will also visit friends at Livingston and Thompson Falls, Montana.

LODGE'S KEYNOTE SPEECH AT CHICAGO

URGES G. O. P. PARTY TO TURN TO DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

BITTER AGAINST WILSON

Demanded the Republicans Cast Aside All Past Dissentions to Drive Democrats Out

By David M. Church
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Coliseum, Chicago, June 8. — "We must be now and forever for Americanism and nationalism, and against internationalism," declared Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, today, delivering the keynote speech of the Republican convention.

Senator Lodge urged the Republican party to turn its attention to domestic problems and the restoration of the "essential principles" of the American government, which have been "both shaken and invaded."

"In the rise of prices the high cost of living is the most pressing—the most essential problem which confronts us," he declared.

Bitterly flaying the Wilson administration, Senator Lodge said the "free representative government" of the United States is imperiled by the "return of the Democrats to power with Mr. Wilson or any of his desciples still the leader and master of the great party."

He demanded that the Republicans, casting aside "all past dissentions" drive from control "Mr. Wilson and his dynasty, his heirs and assigns — anybody who with bent knees has served his purpose."

Senator Lodge said in part:

We are met here to take the first, the most decisive step in the political campaign which is to determine the party cantrol of this great Government for the next four years. It is a solemn moment, fraught with vast possibilities of either good or evil.

One of our great political parties has failed to meet—nay, is in a considerable measure responsible for, the perilous conditions of the hour. The only other organized political force strong enough to grapple with the encircling dangers is the Republican Party. If that too, fails and breaks down, the Russian descent into barbarism will begin to draw near. Such an end is inconceivable with the American people but they must realize the peril and drive it back into the darkness whence it comes. We, keepers of the Republican faith, must therefore succeed. We must not know defeat when the great responsibilty comes to our hands. To the service of 1860 we must add a like service in 1920. No larger victory at any time could be won by any political party. We must both earn and deserve it. We did not fail in the Civil War. We shall not, must not fail now.

In order to render to our country the service which we desire to render and which we can accomplish in large measure, at least, if we undertake it with all our ability and in a disinterested public spirit, we must have the opportunity for service. That opportunity can only come through our being entrusted by the people with both the legislative and the executive authority. To this end Mr. Wilson and his dynasty, his heirs and assigns, or anybody that is his, anybody who with bent knee has served his purposes, must be driven from all control, from all influence upon the Government of the United States. They must be driv-

NEW REINSTATEMENT RULINGS OF EX-SERVICE MEN HERE.

New reinstatement rulings just received by Miss Betty Turner who is executive secretary of the Home Service Department of the Nodaway county Red Cross are of special interest to ex-service men.

CONVENTION OPENS AT CHICAGO TODAY

ATTENTION TURNED TODAY TO THREE BIG FIGHTS.

OVER A LEAGUE PLANK

A Contest on for Chairmanship of Resolutions Committee and for Permanent Chairman.

Program at Today's Session.

Chicago, June 8.—The Republican convention was called to order by Chairman Hays of the National Committee. Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Woodcock of Louisville, Ky. The call for the convention was read by Charles Miller of Minnesota, secretary. Election of Senator Lodge as temporary chairman and his address. Election of other temporary officers. Selection of committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules and odrer of business and resolutions. Announcement of committee meeting. Other miscellaneous business.

Chicago, June 8.—The Republican day of days dawned here with a haze of uncertainty over the entire political situation. Every one of the fifteen or so available candidates are still running. The situation as it affects the "possibilities" particularly of "the big three" consisting of Governor Lowden, General Wood and Senator Johnson is not changed greatly within the last forty-eight hours.

Chairman Hays nominated Senator Lodge for temporary chairman and was elected unanimously. Senator Lodge was given a round of applause as he mounted the platform. A big cheer was given during Lodge's speech when the senator said "Wilson went to Europe alone because he could trust no one else." Many delegates laughed and hooted. Even a bigger demonstration was give nLodge when he referred to the Republican senate "refusing the peace treaty through with the covenant of League of Nations attached."

The convention adjourned at 1:25 o'clock this afternoon until 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Attention turned today to the three big fights now in progress, all of which must be decided before the G. O. P. names its standard bearers. They are the fight on the league of nations plank in the platform with Senator Johnson and Senator Borah standing out against the field for inclusion of the plank absolutely repudiating the league and all its work. An even more intensive fight is over the chairmanship of the all important committee on resolutions between supporters of Senator Watson of Indiana and Ogden Mills of New York. In the controversy over the permanent chairmanship of the convention the three outstanding candidates for this honor today were Senator Lodge of Massachesetts, and McCormick of Illinois, and Ex-senator Beveridge of Indiana.

Carlos Yehle has accepted a position as night operator for the Mutual Telephone Co. and begun work last night.

Miss Marie Alden of St. Joseph is visiting for several days in Maryville with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Alden. Miss Alden is employed in the Bank of Buchanan County in St. Joseph.

Mrs. William Helpley went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

GARDNER DELIVERS ADDRESS

side down

"It is for those of us who live in this generation to right things. We must solve these problems lest the mile-stone will be invisible to the eye. The hand of civilization marking the victory of Liberty and Freedom the world has won will be turned backward—not forward. Religion will have failed in its opportunity. Humanity, with all its hopes, will be crushed.

"Current history, then, becomes the burning live topic of the day, and it is to this phase of life's interests that I wish to now draw your attention.

Governor Gardner then proceeded:

"I shall now discuss with you, briefly, the League of Nations and the Peace Treaty. In doing so, I shall attempt merely to point out to you the difference on this issue between the President and the Senate, so that you, yourselves, may study the great question and reach your own conclusions. I shall attempt to state both sides fairly appreciating the fact that, under such circumstances and conditions an expression of opinion on my part would be inappropriate.

"Let me read Article X of the Treaty of Versailles, as embodied in the Covenant and presented to the Senate by the President:

" 'The members of the League undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression, the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the League. In case of any such aggression, or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled.'

"Let me quote the final Lodge-Borah Reservation as adopted by the Senate:

" 'The United States assumes no obligation to preserve the territorial integrity or political independence of any other country by the employment of its military or naval forces, its resources, or any form of economic discrimination, or to interfere in any way in controversies between nations, whether members of the League or not, under the provisions of Article X or to employ the military or naval forces of the United States under any article of the Treaty for any purpose unless in any particular case the Congress, which, under the Constitution, has the sole power to declare war or authorize the employment of the military or naval forces of the United States, shall in the exercise of full liberty of action, by act or joint resolution so provide.'

"The President says of this Lodge-Borah Reservation:

" 'Any League of Nations which does not guarantee as a matter of incontestable right the political independence and integrity of each of its members might be hardly more than a futile scrap of paper.'

" 'It is a new doctrine in the world's affairs and must be recognized or there is no secure basis for the peace which the whole world so longingly desires and so desperately needs.'

"Senator Lodge, speaking of the President's statement in regard to Article X, says:

" 'It is well that he has said it; the issue can be veiled no longer; it justifies the position that we have on this side, all alike, have taken, that there must be no obligation imposed on the United States to carry out the provisions of Article X.'

Governor Gardner then discussed many of the great problems before this nation and the world, constantly appealing to the teachers for an enlightened study of the great questions on their own part. He said the time had come when the people must place the nation's interests above those of any party; that candidates must be chosen who were men of character, integrity and whose records and environment offered a guarantee that party platforms, upon which they were candidates, would be carried out.

He discussed the transportation question, dividing it into three subjects—railroads, rivers and highways, strongly advocating the approval by the people of the State of Missouri of the $60,000,000 bond issue to be voted upon in November, and to be paid out of the Motor Vehicle License tax during the next thirty year.

The Governor then proceeded to discuss the industrial question — the issues between capital and labor.

Discussing living conditions, Governor Gardner attributed the high cost of living to three distinct causes:

(1) The excessive exports of America to Europe, calling attention to the fact that, during nine months of 1919, our exports to Europe amounted to $2,850,000,000; whereas, Europe sent back to America only $450,000,000—an excess of exports over imports for these nine months, alone, of $2,400,000,000. If this merchandise had been distributed in this country, or if a like amount had been returned by Europe, it would have made a vast difference in supplying the demand of the people.

(2) The second cause was production.

"Production, said the Governor, "has fallen off because of this conflict and quarrel between capital and labor until the factory is now producing about 60 per cent of its capacity and only that proportion of what it did produce before the war."

(3) The third cause of the high cost of living, he attributed to the war taxes which long ago should have been reduced. He strongly advocated the abolition of the Excess Profit Tax and a reduction of the Federal Income Taxes.

Governor Gardner then discussed the military question, including the reorganization of the army and navy. He pointed out the negative and affirmative of universal military training, and in regard to the recognition of the soldiers, he said:

"We should give full and ample recognition to the service men, either by opening vast areas of government owned land in the west and supplying capital for the erection of homes and equipment through the Federal Farm Loan banks, or additional cash compensation. This recognition should, in a large measure, assume the form recommended by the service men themselves.

"We should endorse the measures enacted by the Legislature recognizing the service men and should promise additional recognition at the incoming session of the Legislature. This to take the form of either cash compensation, or the establishment of a Soldiers and Sailors Relief Fund to be managed by former service men."

Discussing Americanism, the Governor said:

"We should declare for Americanism in its simplest and fullest sense. The pure unadulterated Americanism of Jefferson as enunciated by him in the Declaration of Independence, when he said: 'All men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.' "

The Governor made a strong and elaborate argument in favor of education.

The Governor said he was for free speech, free press and free assemblage, but that there must be a deadline beyong which no one must go, and that there should be absolutely barred from the country all aliens or anarchists or any others opposing our forms of government.

The Governor closed his address with an appeal for unity of sentiment and purpose on the part of all the people in meeting and solving the great problems confronting the nation and the world.

LODGE'S KEYNOTE SPEECH

en from office and power not because they are Democrats but because Mr. Wilson stands for a theory of administration and government which is not American. His methods, his constant if indirect assaults upon the Constitution and upon all the traditions of free government, strike at the very life of the American principles upon which our Government has always rested.

Let me turn first to the economic conditions, so profoundly distorted and confused by the war, which affect our daily life, are essential to our business and upon which our material prosperity and all the benefits, both mental and moral, which flow from it when honestly acquired, so largely depend. Already a beginning has been made by a Republican Congress, working under all the difficulties and opposition imposed by a hostile Executive. Many vital economic measures and especially protective tariff legislation to guard our industries are impossible with a Democratic Free Trader of Socialistic proclivities in the White House.

Let me give a few examples of what has been accomplished.

The estimates have been reduced over a billion dollars. The oil-leasing and water power bills, two measures of large effect and high importance, which have been halting and stumbling for many years in the incapable hands of a Democratic majority, have become laws. We have passed the vocational rehabilitation act for the benefit of wounded soldiers and several acts for the disposition of war material, very necessary to our finances. We have amended and improved the Federal Reserve and the farmers' loan acts. We have cared for the soldiers of the Civil War, straitened in their old age through the rise in prices, by an increase in their pensions. The civil service retirement law, a long-deferred act of justice to faithful servants of the Government, has been passed and a minimum wage bill for all persons in Government employ has passed both houses. We have been obliged to restore the Army and Navy to a peace footing, a work as difficult as it was necessary. We have met this by two most important measures, the Army and Navy pay-bill and the law for the reorganization of the Army on a peace basis. Two of the most important acts of any period, the shipping act for the upbuilding of the American Marine and the settlement of the affairs of the Shipping Board and the law establishing the Budget, a great measure of economy and sound financial administration, are conspicuous as our latest achievements.

The list of beneficial laws, passed under adverse circumstances, might be largely extended did not time forbid. But these are enough to show the farreaching results of the labors of this Congress, whose time is but little more than half spent. Some of the master minds of the Democratic party are now chirruping away like incessant little birds that "the Republicans have done nothing." I should be glad, omitting the two years of war when both parties worked together, to put the recorded accomplishment of the five years of complete Democratic control beside that of our eighteen months hampered by an inimical administration. Let me assure you that we do not fear the comparison.

We have made a remarkable beginning, but we are fully conscious that it is only a beginning. Much has been done, much more remains to do and we pledge ourselves to exert all our energies to deal with what is still undone. The wreck and confusion of a great war, in business, finance and all economic conditions, cannot be cleared away and fully readjusted in a year and a half nor indeed in twice that time. Reconstruction must be steady and energetic but it also demands care if it is to be of lasting value. The rise of prices, the high cost of living which reach daily into every home, is the most pressing, as it is the most difficult and most essential problem which confronts us. Some of the sources of this trouble can be reached by legislation, although not all, but everything that can be effected by law shoul dbe done at once. Profiteering, the charging of extortionate and unjustified prices, which is stupid as well as unlawful, are subject now to ample punitive laws. Those laws should be enforced others if necessary added, and the offenders both great and small should be pursued and punished, not in the headlines of newspapers after the manner of the present Attorney General, but quietly, thoroughly and efficiently, in the courts of the United States.

Remedy Lies in Production.

The most potent remedy of all against advances in the high cost of living, however, lies in production, which cannot be reached directly by statues. If production begins to fail and fall off, the cost of everything will be advanced by the simple force of scarcity which inevitably drives prices upward. The most essential remedy for high costs is to keep up and increase production and particularly should every effort be made to advance the productivity of the farms. Just how much the Government can do in this direction is uncertain, but it can aid and support and if anything can be done it must not be omitted or overlooked.

There is however, one measure which cannot be passed over, a single great law which has been enacted and which in any period would be sufficient to distinguish a Congress as one of high accomplishment. This is the Railroad Act. No doubt time and experience will show that improvements in the Act can be made, piece of legislation and in general principles is entirely sound, and nothing could be more unfair than to criticize the present owners contending with the legacy of mismanagement, waste and confusion bequeathed by the Government when it returned the roads only three months ago. The Railroad Law possesses also an importance wholly distinct from its provisions, which have been framed with extreme care. This Act declares a national policy and, so far as any law can do it, establishes that policy as a rule of action. The policy embodied in the bill concedes at the outset that it is of course impossible to return to the old system or lack of system in the management of railroads. They must henceforth be under thorough Government supervision and also the Government must have over them a large measure of control. The transportation system of the country can no longer be suffered to continue without such supervision and control. But the policy also represents the principle that the Government must not assume the ownership of the railroads. Their operation and management must be left in private ownership.

Let us turn to foreign questions, to our relations with the world of other nations. Look at Mexico. For seven years the United States has been pursuing under the direction of the President a policy of "watching waiting." The President saw fit to intervene in Mexico. As a matter of fact he made war upon Mexico, for in the taking of Vera Cruz we lost some 120 men in killed and wounded and several hundred unregarded, incidental Mexicans were also either wounded or killed in the conflict. We went there to exact an apology for the treatment of some of our sailors at Tampico. The apology has never been given but General Huerta was driven from power, which was the President's real purpose, and Mexico then fell into a state of anarchy which, growing constantly worse, has continued to this day. Over 600 Americans have been murdered in Mexico, some under circumstances of great brutality. For these murders no reparation has been made. Decorated by endless * * * futile and useless notes they have gone on unchecked. * * Mexico teemed with German plots.

Need of a Firm Hand.

We have watched and waited long enough. It is time that this condition, disgraceful to us and ruinous to Mexico, should cease. We need a firm hand at the helm. * * *

The President has been unable or unwilling to do anything for Mexico, where civil war has raged for years, where anarchy exists and where the people are suffering. But he thinks it our duty to take a mandate for Armenia, which would involve our sending an army there for an indefinite time and which would cost, including the army and civil expenditures 275 millions for the first year, besides entangling us in all the quarrels and intriques of Asia Minor and the surrounding countries. Mexico lies at our door. * * *

Speaking about the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations, Senator Lodge said in part:

President Wilson was determined that there should be a League of Nations then and there and in order to nullify the powers of the Senate given by the Constitution of the United States he decided to make the League an integral part of the Treaty of Peace. * * To the great mass of the American people he said: "This covenant of the League of Nations will bring to the world a lasting peace." * * As we studied it and a majority of Senators desired to have some League if possible which should be a genuine League of Peace—we found that it dragged us not only into every dispute and every war in Europe and in the rest of the world, but that our soldiers and sailors might be forced to give their lives in quarrels not their own at the bidding of foreign governments. * * *

Reservations were adopted which relieved us from every obligation under Article X, which took all our domestic questions completely out of the jurisdiction of the League, which once and for all placed the Monroe doctrine beyond any interference by Europe or any foreign power, and which refused our assent to the cruel wrong of Shantung. Some of us were deeply convinced that there ought to be no League at all and that absolute safety could be obtained in no other way; others of us, more numerous, believed that the reservations I have described, would protect the United States against the perils of the covenant if we joined the League. We were all firmly united in our determination that the League as submitted by Mr. Wilson must never pass. * * *

Senator Lodge then spoke of the President's veto of the resolution passed by Congress of declaring peace with Germany.

In closing, Senator Lodge said:

In making our contest before the people let us think of what the public interest, the future existence of the United States, demand without any consideration of party effect. * *

Let us also in the battle we are to wage make no promises which cannot be performed. Make our declaration of principles so broad, so devoted to the one supreme object, that all may accept it and all work for the same dominant result. Thus inspired, thus united, we may feel assured that when the banners are lifted and the trumpets blown we shall march forth to a victory, not for our party alone but for principles and beliefs which are absolutely vital if the American Republic is to continue on its triumphant course and the hopes of humanity, so bound up in the fortunes of the United States, are to be fulfilled

TROUBLES FROM MY AGE

Mrs. Baney tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her Through the Change of Middle Life.

Rochester, Ind.—"My troubles were from my age and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully. I took doctor's medicine and other patent medicine but the Vegetable Compound has helped my nerves more than anything I have ever taken. I am thankful to the one who recommended it to me and will surely do my part in telling others what the medicine has done for me." —Mrs. LETTIE BANEY, 468 East 9th St., Rochester, Indiana.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness should be heeded by middle-aged women and let Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carry them safely through this crisis as it did Mrs. Baney.
